

TRAIN

I'm following a train, down the tracks
If you let it go, maybe it'll come back
Feels like I'm circlin' the moon, in this dark dark hour
Got to listen really close just to hear its power

CHORUS

Railroad cars screeching...near the end of the line
Whatever I'm chasing seems miles away now
And on we go walking to a place from the past
There's too much left for me to let this ride end.

A machine on the run, whistlin' like a song bird
There's a one-eyed light, that's shinin' on through
Through the miles of night, across the woods of pine
Try to keep your balance when you see the "X" sign.

CHORUS

Like the laughter of a child, hanging upside down
Its wheels click together as they move around
All the cars pass me by as I stand alone
Kind of seems ironic that I'm singing that song.
